Good earnings growth with upside on dividend

Post analyst meeting, we maintain our Outperform rating with an unchanged TP of Bt27. We maintain our view of good earnings growth in 2024, underpinned by decent growth in loan and fee income and lower credit cost. The restructure into a holding company will give upside to dividend payout.

Easing credit cost. TIDLOR still plans to ease credit cost to 3-3.35% in 2024 (vs. 3.32% in 1Q24) from 3.39% in 2023 on lower NPL inflow and smaller write-offs after making early write-offs in 2023. It expects its 2024 credit cost to approach the 3.35% upper-end guidance, as it is uncertain about used car prices, which it expects to fall in 2Q24 following the end of the relief program in April. We inched up 2024F credit cost by 5 bps to 3.35% (-4 bps).

Continued decent growth. TIDLOR is keeping its loan growth target at 10-20% in 2024. QoQ loan growth was 2.8% (+21% YoY) in 1Q24, stronger than 2.3% in 1Q23 and greater than its own and our expectations, reflecting rising loan demand. It is seeing a seasonal acceleration in loan growth in 2Q24 and we maintain our 2024F loan growth at 18% vs. 20% in 2023.

NIM pressured by rising cost of funds. TIDLOR expects cost of funds to rise no more than 40 bps over the rest of the year. To mitigate impact from the rise in cost of funds, it raised lending interest rates by 35 bps in December last year, applied to new lending. We expect NIM to narrow 11 bps in 2024F.

Raised brokerage fee income growth. TIDLOR's non-life insurance premiums grew 23% YoY in 1Q24, beating its 2024 target of 10-20%. The company just rebranded its insurance brokerage business to "Shield Insurance". We expect this to help boost brand awareness and premium sales and on this basis we raise our 2024F fee & service income growth to 19% from 18%.

Restructuring to holding company = upside to dividend payout. It is in the process of restructuring to a holding company, which it expects to complete in 4Q24. TIDLOR plans to set up a new company (NewCo) under Tidlor Holdings to operate InsurTech Platform. This will pave the way for a cash dividend instead of a stock dividend, offering upside to our 2024F dividend payout estimate of 20%.

Good earnings recovery. We expect earnings growth to accelerate to 22% (+18% for EPS) in 2024F from 4% in 2023, underpinned by lower credit cost, decent loan growth and good fee income growth that will offset lower NIM.

Maintain Outperform with an unchanged TP. We maintain our Outperform rating with an unchanged TP of Bt27 (at 2.4x PBV based on 17% L-T ROE, 9.4% cost of equity and 4% L-T growth) or 17x 2024F PE as we expect a good earnings recovery in 2024 and 2025, backed by lower credit cost.

Key risks: 1) Asset quality risk from an uneven economic recovery, 2) credit cost risk from falling used vehicle prices, 3) rising competition from banks, 4) regulatory risk and 5) ESG risk from market conduct.

Value proposition

TIDLOR is Thailand's leader in the vast untapped micro finance market and the fragmented insurance broker market. It is a pioneer in providing technology-driven financial services, with the largest market share in automobile title loans and the second largest share of the micro finance market. TIDLOR has the second largest market share of retail-focused non-life insurance brokers.

Business outlook

We expect earnings growth to recover to 22% in 2024F from 4% in 2023, underpinned by lower credit cost, decent loan growth and good fee income growth, despite a drag from rising cost of funds.

Bullish views	Bearish views
1. Good loan growth off a vast untapped micro finance market.	1. Rising NPLs as a result of the end of the relief program and uneven economic recovery.
2. Good growth in insurance brokerage income.	2. Rising cost of funds as a result of rising bond yield and uptrending interest rates.

Rising NPLs	Uneven and slower-than-expected economic growth.	Negative	This will bring downside risk from credit cost.
